BAYERISCHE STAATSOPER – BAVARIAN STATE OPERA

Mission Statement	The Bayerische Staatsoper in Munich can proudly look back on 350 years of history, and thanks to continual development and outstanding productions it numbers among the leading opera houses of the world. The diverse program and events taking place practically every day underpin Munich's reputation as a city of culture!
Selection of venues	Nationaltheater, Prinzregententheater, Cuvilliés-Theater, Allerheiligen Hofkirche and other exceptional venues in Munich
A first glance into the upcoming season 2019/20	State Director Nikolaus Bachler, Chief Musical Director Kirill Petrenko and Ballet Director Igor Zelensky will present the plans for the coming season at the Bayerische Staatsoper on March 17th – hailing the motto „KILL YOUR DARLINGS“. You can enjoy the presentation live on www.staatsoper.tv. We will be very pleased to accept your group and individual ticket orders for the next season from the 18th of March. The Bayerische Staatsoper is renowned for enthralling productions of notable directors, such as Andreas Kriegenburg, Marina Abramović or Hans Neuenfels as well as for creme de la creme performers featuring, for example, Diana Damrau, Anja Harteros, Anna Netrebko, Ermonela Jaho, Anja Kampe, Joseph Calleja, Plácido Domingo, Jonas Kaufmann, Pavol Breslik and Ivor Bolton. Stars such as Ksenia Ryzhkova, Natalia Osipova, Sergei Polunin or Osiel Gouneo appear regularly with the Bayerisches Staatsballett. Look forward to seven new opera productions and three new ballet productions, as well as more than 40 revivals in the coming season. With Chief Musical Director Kirill Petrenko the Bayerisches Staatsorchester enjoys an outstanding international reputation, and has been repeatedly accoladed as „Orchestra of the Year“. You can experience it in over 20 concerts – two of these conducted by Kirill Petrenko.
